Goat Client Questionnaire

In order to provide you with the best advice and treatment recommendations for your goat herds, we are asking our producers to fill out these questionnaires. There are many different vaccination and deworming protocols used by clients based on kidding times, grazing strategies, management practices, and herd numbers. Our goal is to work with you to make individual herd health protocols that work for your operation. Please fill in the questionnaire as completely as you can, and add any additional information you think would be important.
